

K. L. TANNER PASSES AWAY
AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Prominent Business Man of McKinney and Esteemed By Every One—A Self Made Man.

Kearney L. Tanner, one of the most prominent citizens of Lincoln county, after a short illness, died at his home in McKinney, this county, yesterday morning at 4 o'clock, in the 83d year of his age. In his death

Lincoln county loses one of its worthiest and most substantial citizens, whose loss will be severely felt only by his family, but by the whole community in which he lived.

Mr. Tanner was a native of Tennessee, having been born near Nashville, and when about 18 years of age he left the place of his nativity to begin the activities of life for himself. He first located at Rowena on the Cumberland river in this State, where he remained for seven or eight years and then moved to Liberty, Casey county at which place he was actively engaged in business until 1870, when he moved to McKinney where he has since resided. Shortly after his removal to Liberty, Mr. Tanner was married to Miss Elizabeth Vandever, a sister of the late D. W. Vandever, and she and seven of the ten children with which their union was blessed survive him. The children are: K. L. Tanner, Jr., John L. Tanner, of Ore., V. M. Tanner, and Ed. J. Tanner, of McKinney, Mrs. W. K. Shugars, of McKinney, Mrs. H. C. Nunnally, of Winchester.

During his whole life Mr. Tanner was actively engaged in farming and mercantile pursuits and was always a director in one or more banks. He was a man of exceptional business capacity, which was supplemented by a high sense of honor and unbounded energy. Possessed of these qualifications he was bound to succeed and did succeed for at the time of his death he was possessed of one of the largest estates in the county. He was in every sense the architect of his own fortune, for when he left home to begin the battle of life his possessions consisted of a horse, a wagon, and five dollars in cash.

For more than half a century he had been a consistent and active member of the Christian church, and leaves to his children not only an abundance of his world's goods, but that which is of far greater value, the heritage of a good name.

He will be buried at McKinney cemetery at 2 P. M., today under the auspices of the Masonic Fraternity, of which lodge he was long a member, after funeral services at his residence.

R. G. Pettus has Narrow Escape

The Lancaster Record says: While going to his home from town last Sunday afternoon in a buggy drawn by a pair of spirited horses, Mr. Richard B. Pettus, of near Preachersville, together with his wife and her sister, Miss McKee, who were in the buggy with him, had a very narrow escape from serious injury and probably death. Just at dusk they met an automobile and the horses became frightened at the glare of the lamps and became unmanageable. They turned sharply in the road, overturning the vehicle and ran from near Mr. John Pease's on the Crab Orchard. He was down dragging the overturned vehicle with them. They were stopped near the Sweeney stable. When the vehicle was overturned, Mr. Pettus and the ladies were thrown out and miraculously escaped injury. Mr. Pettus pluckily secured another buggy and proceeded on his homeward way, driving the horses which had figured in the runaway. He did not know who owned the automobile, but was under the impression that it was driven by a colored man, who never stopped to ascertain the result of the accident.

Roosevelt and Johnson were nominated for president and vice president, respectively, by the Progressive convention at Chicago this week. Johnson is the fighting republican governor of California.

Two More Automobiles.

Messrs. Leo Ruple and John Owsley Reid went to Cincinnati Monday night to buy an automobile for Mr. Ruple. He bought a two passenger, Regal car. They drove through from Cincinnati in the car. Will Hoeker has also joined the ranks of local auto owners with one of the popular Ford touring cars.

Services at Blue Lick.

There will be all day services at the Blue Lick Baptist church, Sunday August 2. The program was as follows: Sunday school at 9 A. M., talk by W. M. Starnes, on instructions to the parents on raising the children, followed by G. W. Hasty. Dinner 1:30; talk by J. E. McClary, on Sunday school in general. Children exercises at 2:30. Ladies exercises followed by Misses Mary Daugherty, May Stringer, and Mesdames Pearl Daugherty, and Mollie Ramsey. Talk by G. Singleton on Home Missions, followed by M. B. Salin. Everybody invited. Come and bring your basket, dinner on the grounds.

Young Waynesburg Farmer No More

George Florence, a well known young farmer of the Waynesburg section, died at his home there early in the week of drend consumption, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. He was just 30 years of age, and is survived by his wife and several small children. Mr. Florence was a Christian and ready and prepared to meet his maker. His remains were laid to rest in Buffalo Springs Cemetery on Wednesday with services at the grave by Mr. J. C. McClary.

Col. Elkin Came Home to Vote

Col. M. F. Elkin, of Lexington, came home to vote in the democratic primary last Saturday, making the 14th time he has come back to his old home to cast his ballot. Col. Elkin has not lived in Stanford for that length of time, but he declared that he never expected to change his official voting residence, so the idea of November, and now the August Primary—generally find him wending his way toward Lincoln, where his heart is ever turning, he eloquently says. On one occasion he made a trip of 1,400 miles to come home to vote. It was for Bryan in 1896, and he says that he never cast a vote with more pleasure in his life.

McKinney.

Miss Mary Carter and Miss Florence Beck, of near Stanford were the guests of Mrs. R. H. Metenlf this week.

The graded school commenced here Monday with a large attendance with Mr. Caldwell as principal and Miss Mada Butler as Assistant. Mr. Harry Jacobs, wife and pretty little daughter, Ada left Tuesday for a ten days' visit with friends at Louisville and Elizabethtown.

The patrons of the Turnersville district had quite a warm election of the trustees last week, Mr. J. W. Peake winning by a majority of 39 votes. Herbert Reynolds is teaching school there and says they are having a good attendance this term.

Miss Lela West of Lexington, and Revel Goorb, of Somerset, were the guests of Mr. Goorb's sister, Mrs. T. H. Singleton this week.

Stroud Goorb and his family moved to Somerset this week, where he has a good position with the Columbia Single Tree Co., at that place.

Mrs. H. C. Nunnally, of Winchester, was called home by the death of her father, Mr. R. L. Tanner.

H. C. Goorb and two boys Wilson, and Hubert of Somerset, spent a few days this week with the home-folks.

Mrs. J. B. Smith and pretty little daughter, Alice Marie, of Morrow, Ga., are here on a visit to Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Goorb of near town.

Burch a Game Loser.

Will S. Burch, County Attorney of Lincoln county, made a game race for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Thirteenth judicial district composed of Lincoln, Boyle, Garrard and Mercer counties, went down in defeat before Judge Emmett Puryear, of Danville. "Bill" Burch, although a hopeless cripple, is a regular dynamo of energy and he kept his opponent on the jump until the polls closed. A tried and true democrat he accepts his defeat gracefully. Judge Puryear, who will be the next Commonwealth's Attorney of the district, is one of the best known young democrats in Central Kentucky. He owes his victory to the loyal friends who stood by him so well—Louisville Times.

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind., for Sale by Penny's Drug Store.

ROWLAND POSTOFFICE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Patrons Will Be Supplied With Mail By Either of Two Rural Routes.

Notification has been received from the Postoffice Department at Washington that the postoffice at Rowland, one mile from Stanford is to be discontinued. The receipts of the office have not been sufficient for its maintenance, and furthermore practically everyone who has been supplied with mail at this point can be served equally as well from either Rural route No. 1 or Rural Route No. 4.

The discontinuance of this office, will mean the retirement from Uncle Sam's service of Frank L. Cordier, who has been the efficient postmaster for some time. He has been in bad health lately, but has always given entire satisfaction as an official to both the public and government.

With Rowland blotted off the postoffice map, what once promised to become a very thriving community will practically lose its identity. In years gone by when the railroad division had headquarters at Rowland, the town was quite a business point, and was a splendid feeder for the business interests of Stanford. Its death knell was sounded however when the division was moved away, and since that time, a few little stores, the postoffice and the depot where the K. C. and Knoxville divisions intersect, is about all that is left of the once bustling little city.

NO ELECTION

For School Trustee Was Held Saturday at Preachersville.

Preachersville, Aug. 8—There was no election Saturday at Preachersville for school trustee. Notices were posted, a small crowd gathered, but the doors were not opened. At Hubbs schools house a good sized crowd was present and an election was held between five and six o'clock, resulting in the choice of M. F. Lawrence as trustee. His opponent, Wm. Dyehouse received only a few votes. The old viva voce system of voting was used with J. S. Pettus as clerk. As there was no election here, which is a sub-district, and an account of other slight technicalities incident to the manner in which the election was held, it is very evident the validity and the final outcome of the issue will be questioned.

A MOTHER IN ISRAEL

Passes To Her Reward When Mrs. Jake Russell Crosses River.

Mrs. Jake Russell died at her home near Hustonville Saturday morning July 27th, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Although her death came not unexpected, as she had been ill for several months, still her loved ones and friends can not help being filled with grief over her loss, for a dear Christian mother she was and truly none knew her but to love her. At all times she was willing to sacrifice what was dear to her for the sake of others. She always had a word of cheer and encouragement to those in trouble.

Mrs. Russell had been a member of the Hustonville Christian church for years, and her beautiful Christian life and character should be an example for all, who knew her.

Mrs. Russell was in her 67th year and was Miss Ellen Power, of Casey county before her marriage to Mr. J. H. Russell some 52 years ago. She is survived by her aged husband, who is a veteran of the Civil war, having served a number of years as a member of the First Kentucky Cavalry, in the Union army, also two sons, Messrs. C. C. and W. A. Russell, of Hustonville, and several grandchildren, to whom she was the same as a mother. The funeral services were conducted at the late home by Rev. Willis, of Hustonville, after which all that was mortal of this good and noble woman was laid to rest in the Hustonville cemetery.

May the dear Father, who has power to take and to give life, comfort the sorrowing husband and children in this dark hour of gloom.

NEGRO DRIVER BREAKS
HIS BACK AND DIES

Overestimated Space Between Top Of Door and Load of Straw With Horrible Results

George Brown, a negro who has been working for the Embury brothers on the Lancaster pike for some time, died Friday, as the result of injuries received Tuesday, when he struck the top of the big doorway at the entrance to Nunnally stock yards, while driving in with a load of straw. He had overestimated the space between the top of the door and the height of his load, and driving from the top of the load, was struck, mashed down and fearfully injured.

The negro's back was broken two ribs caved in, one penetrating a lung and as a result of the broken back, his body was paralyzed completely from the waist down.

Brown was regarded as a good negro and was a good "hand" on the farm. He was about 45 years of age, and is survived by a wife and two children.

24-HOUR CURRENT

May Soon Be Supplied Local Electric Power Users.

General Manager George L. Penney, of the Stanford Water Light & Ice Co., is working hard upon the proposition of furnishing a 24-hour electric current to Stanford consumers. He has been making trips of investigation to a number of cities where the "juice" is supplied all the day around as well as at night, and believes that the time is not far distant when it will be a go in Stanford. He is now getting estimates from various electric supply houses as to the cost of installation of whatever additional machinery will be necessary to complement the already splendid equipped plant which his company operates here.

Mr. Penney has about come to the conclusion that a day current can be made a paying proposition here. Just as soon as the people understand and appreciate its possibilities, it undoubtedly will prove profitable. Not alone will it supply the motive energy for large power users, but the opportunity for cooling in the summer with electric fans, electric heaters in winter, electric washing machines, electric sewing machines, motors, toasters, percolators is sufficient to provide an extensive patronage, once the uses to which the mysterious power can be put, are understood. A prominent contractor says he wants a ten-horse power motor to operate a small planing mill, as soon as the power can be had. He visited Danville and saw the electric motors doing all the work for a big planing mill there, and will install one just as soon as he can get the current in the day time. Several other big power users have also arranged to cut out gas-line engines entirely when the day current can be obtained.

Mr. Penney hopes to have arrangements completed so that the current can be put to work by early spring, if not before that.

Some Election Aftermath

Prof. J. W. Dinsmore, of Berea, the republican candidate for congress, who had no opposition for the nomination, polled only 246 votes in the county last Saturday. The question now being asked about him is whether he is a Taft or a Roosevelt man.

The official count in Lincoln showed that Burch received 913 majority over Puryear, one more than was first reported; Sullivan got 83 votes in the county instead of 82, as first given, and Holdam's plurality for Circuit Clerk was 176. In the republican managerial race at Crab Orchard, a typographical error gave Judge Clifton 101 votes when it should have been 10 votes. Marshall Newland, the democratic candidate there, who was without opposition, polled 126 votes.

Voters had little trouble in "getting out" the primary ballots. One voter at Rowland, however, is reported to have declared that he had never voted anything but the straight democratic ticket in his life, and he didn't propose to begin to scratch now, so he put one cross under the rooster and let it go at that.

Harvey Helm got every vote for congress in the Shelby City precinct in Boyle county. Not one was recorded against him, going some.

Down in Adair county the Helm leaders and the Sullivan workers entered into an agreement that neither side would use any money to buy voters. Both stuck rigidly to the agreement, and as a result, the picking for the "float" was rather slim there. This is a stand that is bound to come in every election before long. What's the matter with having such an agreement among the candidates before the county primary next year? More of this later.

Hustonville.

An announcement of interest to our community is on Tuesday, Aug. 20. Dr. C. W. Sommerville, of Clarksville, Tenn., will arrive to conduct protracted services at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Sommerville's preaching aroused much interest when he preached here last year. All cordially invited to attend all the services.

Mrs. Mary Logan celebrated her 81st birthday on last Monday her guests were: Mrs. Jack Bosley aged 70, Miss Sarah Curtis aged unknown. Many useful and handsome presents were received.

A Splendid Entertainment

The Old Folks' Concert at the Opera House last Thursday night was enjoyed by all who were present. It was given under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church. Those who took part were old fashion costumes, which furnished a great deal of amusement as the most of the costumes were so old they were ridiculous. Mr. J. E. McClary who was instructor of concert deserves much praise for he certainly carried out his part well. Misses Pat Alcorn, Mary Higgins, and Jennie Warren also deserve mention. The solos that were sung by Mrs. Charles Osborne, of Knoxville, and Misses Mary Elizabeth Watts, of Louisville, and Elizabeth Higgins were thoroughly enjoyed by all. The ladies of the Presbyterian church are very grateful to all, to all who helped them.

George D. Florence attended a meeting of the republican state central committee at Louisville, as the Eighth district member. A number of contests were passed upon.

PLUCKY YOUNG LADY
HELPS WITH PLOWING

Miss Annie Barnes, of Preachersville Section, Proves Herself A Splendid "Hand."

Preachersville, Aug. 8—This season, like several others preceding it, laborers have been very scarce and the farmers have had a serious problem before them. Several of the plucky young ladies have helped out in the pinch by helping in the hay and riding cultivators in the corn field. One of these, Miss Annie Barnes, deserves especial mention. She is just 15 years old but bravely volunteered to plow. Remonstrances did no good, and she was seated on a cultivator and riding back and forth across the field. It was soon demonstrated that she could handle a team and plow as well as a man. The field which she cultivated looks as well, or better than some near by which were cultivated by the men.

Miss Barnes is the youngest daughter of the late and lamented Thomas Barnes and since the death of Mrs. Daniel Naylor, has made her home with Mrs. Naylor's daughter, Mrs. Sam Ramsey. The young lady, besides being a good hand with a team, is also greatly interested in her studies and is making fine progress.

A. J. HAYDEN DEAD

Former Resident, of Lincoln and A Respected Citizen.

A. J. Hayden, one of the best known and most highly esteemed citizens of Boyle county and a former Lincolnite, died at his home near Danville Wednesday after an illness of six months duration of a complication of diseases. He was 72 years of age, lacking only one week. Mr. Hayden was a native of Wayne county. From there he moved to Lincoln county and eight years ago he moved to Boyle where, with his estimable family, he had since resided, having purchased the Sim Moore place near Danville. Deceased had been a member of the Christian church for many years. In accord with the request of the deceased, the funeral was held at the grave in Buffalo cemetery this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Livingston, of Crab Orchard, who was a life-long friend.

Mr. Hayden is survived by his wife who is a sister of Joseph Coffey, of this city, and five children—Charles Hayden, of Louisville, and Joe, Shelby, Minnie and Bettie, of Boyle. He is also survived by his niece, Miss Allie Hayden, whom he reared from infancy. Mr. Hayden was one of the most substantial citizens of this section and his death is a severe loss. The bereaved family is extended the sincere sympathy of the community in their dark hour of sorrow.

Mail And Passengers On Airship.

Stone Harbor, N. J., Aug. 8—Marshall Earl Reid flew from Ocean City to Stone Harbor, a distance of twenty miles carrying a passenger and the United States mail, in twenty-nine minutes. It was the first of seven scheduled flights, which if carried out, will be the most important demonstration of possibilities of mail and passenger service by the aeroplane ever given. Geo. S. Gassner, secretary of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania, which arranged the flights, was at the landing. He said the aero club is interested in showing the practical value of the aeroplane, and this carrying of mail and passengers shows great possibilities. "We have brought the mail in one-twentieth of the time and the passenger in less than one-half the time usually required," he said. "When the flying machine has been perfected I believe that aerial transportation of mails and passengers will be in general use."

LAYMEN'S DAY

At McKendree Church Marks Close Of Dr. Pearce's Pastorate

Next Sunday will be Laymen's day at the McKendree Memorial church at Hubble, and will at the same time mark the close of Dr. E. H. Pearce's four years' pastorate.

Dr. Condit B. Vannarsdale, State Layman Leader of Harrodsburg, a lending physician of Central, Ky., will be present to deliver the main address, if professional duties will at all permit.

Other brief addresses will be made by the piano choir of McKendree's young folks, giving some of their best selections. Visitors and guests are invited to the home hospitality of the church. Service commences at 11 A. M.

Dr. Eugene Pearce, under the church law limit of four years, will close his four year pastorate of Lancaster and McKendree, with this service, subject to ratification at the annual conference in September. A number of calls have come to the retiring pastor, some to work in nation-wide fields, for the coming year, others to the Kentucky field, from the blue grass country to the mountains of Kentucky, the latter being a field, he is said to prefer on account of its needs, if the health of his family permits. In the duties of his national committee of the American church federation Dr. Pearce has traveled over 3,000 miles in the past four years; in the house to house visitation of his 75 square miles constituency in Garrard, Lincoln and Boyle, 2,600 miles; home visits, 862.

Increase in membership in four years past on profession of faith has been 35 per cent. in fiscal offerings, 40 per cent.

For missions and other benevolences official, $1,301 an average of $8.70 per member, 96 per cent. of families of the pastorate being contributive. This including boys and girls, as well as heads of families. For church property, betterments, including a new piano at McKendree and church renovation at Lancaster, $855.

Hay fever and asthma make August a month of intense suffering to many people. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives prompt relief, and is soothing and healing to the inflamed membrane. Wm. M. Merrihew, N. H. Searnsport, Mo., says: "A few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound relieved me of a severe attack of asthma and less than a bottle cured a complete cure." Refuse substitutes. ## STRAW VOTE

In Brooklyn Shows Woodrow Wilson A Big Favorite.

New York, Aug. 8.—According to the first returns of a straw vote which the Brooklyn Eagle has started on the Presidential issue, Woodrow Wilson is the most popular candidate with Brooklyn voters. He is leading in the first canvass by more than two to one over Roosevelt, who is second, while President Taft is third. The returns up to Saturday night were as follows:

Wilson 2,125.
Roosevelt 1,009.
Taft 822.

The expressions of voters show a tremendous shift from the Taft to the Wilson party. The latter is picking up a lot of votes that went for the Republican candidate four years ago.

The Roosevelt strength is divided about evenly between men who four years ago voted for the leading two parties. If anything, Roosevelt is getting more Democratic than Republican votes.

From a Lincoln Man in Texas

Ochiltree, Tex., July 5th.

To my Lincoln County Friends:— Having promised several of my friends that I would write them during my stay in the Panhandle and not remembering just who all that I had promised, I concluded the best means of reaching them all would be through the columns of the I. J. We have been having some fine weather and harvest is in full blast and the only drawback is getting hands to help harvest the enormous crops. The Panhandle of Texas is now coated with beautiful green grass, with thousands of white face cattle leisurely grazing over its level surface, with thousands upon thousands of acres of golden colored wheat waving to and fro and hundreds of thousands of acres of corn, kaffir, maize, barley, speltz and other grains so green that in the expanse of country, they look in the distance, like black spots upon the ground, causing one to explain as he beholds this scene, "The Panhandle beautiful." And while gazing upon this, the thought comes to mind, why does the man, who is always looking for an opportunity for a good investment let such chances pass by? With the low price still asked for land in the Panhandle, (especially Ochiltree County) the profit that must accrue to an investor is so enormous as to seem almost incredible. This last fact alone, can only account for the delay practiced by the man of means.

Agriculture here is no longer an experiment. It is now a country which is surprising the whole United States in its wonderful production. It needs no one to brag and talk it up as being a success; simply come and see for yourself and when you behold with your own eyes the crops that meet your gaze, you like every other person, who comes and sees for himself, will be a believer.

Great opportunity is here for the young man, who is wide awake and intelligently directs his energy, fortunes are here waiting for the man of the hour to grasp them.

What can you hope to accomplish for yourself in states, that are settled up and are so crowded that you can scarcely make a living? Throw off the burdens of high rent, high taxes and come and locate where you have a chance to rise to comfort for yourself and family. Likewise there are opportunities in this country for young ladies. For instance if you are a school teacher you are not asked to teach school for a meagre wage, but paid what your ability deserves. It is a fact though, it is next to impossible for a young lady teaching the Panhandle to take up teaching as a life work, because of the persuasive ways of the young men and old bachelors. In planning your next trip from the East, West North or South let it include an auto drive through the Panhandle.

J. B. WILLIAMS.

Robert W. Herter, Lawrenceville, Mo., who had been bothered with kidney trouble for two years says: "I tried three different kinds of kidney pills but with no relief. My neighbor told me to use Foley Kidney Pills. I took three bottles of them, and got a permanent cure. I recommend them to everybody." Shugars and Tanner.

VICIOUS MULE TOSSES SHOER TWENTY FEET

Grabs Blacksmith by Seat of Pants and Throws Him Across the Shop.

Linton, Ind.—E. B. Merittdale's estate, incorporated, is made defendant in a suit for damages brought by James B. Dillon, on a charge that is not of the ordinary. Clayton Baker, who is employed on the Merittdale farm of 1,200 acres, located southeast of Linton, took a mule to Dillon, who is a blacksmith, to be shod.

Baker knew the animal was vicious, according to the allegations of the complaint, but said nothing to Dillon about it. Dillon proceeded with his work, and while stooping over shoeing a fore foot the animal seized him by the pants with its teeth and threw him twenty feet. He alighted on an iron floor with such violence that the tendons of one leg were torn loose and his left knee was fractured so that he is still compelled to walk on crutches though the injuries were sustained last May. He alleges he will be a cripple for life and asks damages in the sum of $6,000. The defendant is the estate of the late Elijah H. Merittdale of Indianapolis.

THREE LINCOLN BOYS

Playing Ball With Lexington Blue Grass League.

Lincoln County now has three men on the Lexington team of the Blue Grass League, Wesley Embury, Mike Penny and Harry Hammit. The last named is the star pitcher of the league. Young Embury was released to Lexington by Frankfort, after winning a big majority of his games. He pitched against Paris Monday and was beaten 9 to 0 poor support being responsible for most of the runs.

Penny who was telephoned to join the team Saturday, was put on second base, a new position for him as he has always either been in the box or behind the bat. He played in two games without an error. ## A Negro Hebrew.

New York, August 8.—Rufus L. Perry, a negro lawyer of Brooklyn, has embraced and been formally received into the Jewish faith. It is said that Perry is the first negro to accept the Jewish faith in twenty years. Perry was appointed assistant district attorney in 1885, and in 1911 was mentioned as a candidate for justice of the state supreme court.

The Coughs of Children

They may not cough today, but what about tomorrow? Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. This cough medicine is especially good for children. No anodynes. No alcohol.

Many a child is called dull and stupid when the whole trouble is due to a lazy liver. We firmly believe your own doctor will tell you that an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills, sugar-coated, will do such children a great deal of good. Ask him. Made by the J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

THE "PROGRESSIVE" PARTY

Is the individual, man or woman, who uses Foley Kidney Pills for backache, rheumatism, weak back, and other kidney and bladder irregularities. Foley Kidney Pills are healing, strengthening, tonic and quick to produce beneficial results. Contain no harmful drugs. Never sold in bulk. Put up in two sizes in sealed bottles. The genuine is a yellow package. Shugars and Tanner.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE.

Do not sap the springs of life by neglect of the human mechanism, by allowing the accumulation of poisons in the system. An imitation of Nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous strength is to take an alternative glyceric extract (without alcohol) of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, Bloodroot, Stune and Mandrake root with Cherrybark. Over 40 years ago Dr. Pierce gave to the public this remedy, which he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He found it would help the blood in taking up the proper elements from food, help the liver into activity, thereby throwing out the poisons from the blood and vitalizing the whole system as well as allaying and soothing a cough.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. The "Discovery" is an all-round tonic which restores tone to the blood, nerves and heart by imitating Nature's methods of restoring waste of tissue, and feeding the nerves, heart and lungs on rich red blood.

"I suffered from pain under my right shoulder blade also a very severe cough," writes Mrs. W. DORR, of New Brunswick, N. C., to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "Had four different doctors and none did me any good. Some said I had consumption, others said I would have to have an operation. I was bedridden, unable to sit up for six months—and was nothing but a live skeleton. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Discovery' I could sit up for an hour at a time, and when I had taken three bottles I could do my cooking and tend to the children. I took fourteen bottles in all and was then in good health. My weight is now 167 pounds.

Traveled By E. C. Garman as Mail Clerk—A Fine Record.

Glasgow Times tells of the career and number of miles traveled by R. L. Hardgrove, as a railway mail clerk, which only slightly exceeds the record that a Stanford man has made in this branch of Uncle Sam's service. He is Mr. E. C. Garman, who was appointed from Barkeville in 1899 and assigned to a run between Cincinnati and Nashville and placed in Mr. Hardgrove's crew, where they worked shoulder to shoulder for quite a while. After some two years or more on account of failing health Mr. Garman was transferred to a one man run between Mayssville and Stanford where he has been for more than 10 years and during which time he has not enjoyed a leave of absence of more than three days each week. During these twelve years of service, Mr. Garman has traveled more than 600,000 and now makes an average of about 40,000 miles each year.

Mr. Garman was born and reared in Cumberland county and prior to service taught in the public schools his appointment in the railway mail of the state for a period of more than 12 years. He married Miss Flora Hill, of Monroe county and they have two bright children, Paul 12 years and Mary Hill, age 10. They have many friends in Monroe, Metcalf, Cumberland and adjoining counties who, as well as their local friends will be interested in this information of the fine record Mr. Garman has made.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Stanford People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney trouble is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Stanford.

Dawson Barnett, Rowland, St., Stanford, Ky., says: "Some time ago I had a severe fall and this together with the jarring to which I am subject at my work, brought on kidney trouble. For several days I could hardly get about on account of the terrible pains in my back. I also noticed that the passages of the kidney secretions were irregular, especially at night. I decided to cure my trouble before it became chronic and as I knew Doan's Kidney Pills to be good for such complaints, I began their use. Before I had finished the box, I was entirely cured and have had no kidney trouble since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Pension Money Short.

The news comes from Frankfort that 2,775 applications for pensions under the new Confederate Pension Bill have been filed with Capt. W. J. Stone, head of the pension department of the state. Of the total number received only about 50 per cent. have clear proof of their claims and only about 20 per cent. clearly show that they are not entitled to pensions at all. The remaining 30 per cent. have to be sent back for further proof, as many salient points are left blank.

It is hard to estimate how many applications will be filled, but it seems sure that the number will go over 3,000.

The Original Wilson Man. (Frankfort State Journal.)

The real dyed-in-the-wool, name-blown-in-the-bottle "original Wilson man" called on Governor McCreary yesterday. He is Joseph Mount, of Churru, who wore a Wilson button to the Democratic platform convention at Louisville in June, 1911. He wore it on that occasion to see how many Wilson men he could "flush" in the convention, and satisfied himself that Wilson sentiment was strong. He sent the badge to Gov. Wilson and learned that he was the first man in Kentucky to subscribe for the Wilson campaign fund. He helped carry Garrard county for Wilson, and went to the State convention as a Wilson delegate. "It was some lonesome being a Wilson delegate there," he said, "but there is plenty of company now."

CHARLIE WHITEMOON, the Cow Boy Herbalist

3729-31 W. Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Deep down in every human heart lies a NATURAL desire for NATURE'S medicines, Roots & Herbs. Too long have the secrets of nature been neglected, too long have people disregarded God's promises. Modern doctors think only of "operations" & strong drugs, while human suffering & deaths from disease increase rapidly every year. Health is natural, disease unnatural. My years of experience as a Cow-boy & among the Indians give me a peculiar fitness & knowledge of the powers of Roots & Herbs as medicines, my remedies have cured & are curing Blood Poison, Lung Trouble, Kidney, Bladder, Liver, Female & Skin diseases, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Catarrh, Nervous & Stomach Troubles that were pronounced incurable by the best doctors. I want to PROVE this to the world & to any one asking, I will mail the greatest book of its kind ever published, entitled "THE COW-BOY HERBALIST," absolutely free. If you are not enjoying ALL the blessings of perfect health, your duty demands that you INVESTIGATE MY CLAIMS. All letters of inquiry promptly answered.

COM-CEL-SAR is the name of my great TONIC, BODY-BUILDER, composed of 16 Roots & Herbs, makes 3 full quarts of medicine, lasts about 3 months, costs only one dollar & is LEGALLY GUARANTEED to satisfy THE PURCHASER or money refunded. COM-CEL-SAR is sold BY ALL DRUGGISTS & DEALERS IN MEDICINE for the nerves, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, bladder & blood. A household remedy most excellent. Ask for COM-CEL-SAR; if your druggist hasn't got it or won't get it, I WILL FILL YOUR ORDERS POSTAGE PAID.

CHARLIE WHITEMOON'S SCIENCE SOPE is made of PURE VEGETABLE OILS FOR HUMAN SKIN ONLY, guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. 10c or 3 bars 25c at all dealers, Retail, who are supplied thru all wholesale dealers.

Demand for Hunting Licenses.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 7.—Sportsmen of Kentucky have been taking out hunting licenses under the new law in a way to please Executive Agent J. Q. Ward, of the Fish and Game Commission. Several county clerks have requested more license blanks, saying they are going so fast they will not have enough to supply the demand when the quail season opens August 1st. The dove season, which opened Aug. 1, has stimulated the output of licenses. Commissions are being issued to the newly appointed wardens. These officials will give bond in the sum of $500.

Hexa Club Reunion

The "Hexn" Club held their reunion to Crab Orchard Springs Aug. 1. This club was organized some years ago when the following young ladies attended the Stanford Female College: Misses Mary Higgins, Virginia Bourne, Mary McRoberts, of Danville, Josephine Hayden, of Paris Mrs. Hubert Spencer, of Spring City Tenn., and Mrs. Jamie Carpenter, of Crab Orchard. They enjoyed the day very much for it was the first time that they had been together for several years.

D. C. Bybee, teaming contractor living at 669 Keeling Court, Canton, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back pained and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Foley Kidney Pills just as directed and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back, and I sleep well. I am now all over my trouble and glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Try them, Shugars and Tanner.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which laxative to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

RURAL TELEPHONES.

MR. FARMER:—Make your home as modern for your family as a nice residence, and place yourself in a position to get the latest market quotations at any time. LAYE MORGAN

Both the Danville Advocate and the Danville Messenger come out strong for Gov. Beckham for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator in the state wide primary next August. This is peculiarly appropriate and well thought. The Advocate which made the first declaration for Beckham on Monday said:

"Boyle county gave Gov. J. C. W. Beckham a knock-out blow when he was the nominee for United States Senator. Boyle county was chagrined at that time and has been anxious to do reparation. The democrats of this county should come out to a man for the former Governor. The Advocate is anxious to be the first to propose the proposition for the unanimous support of the Nelson county leader. Gov. Beckham's stand at Baltimore along with Senator James has made him a force in the State that stamps him as a winner."

The Richmond papers are very sore at the democrats of Madison for turning down Judge Sullivan in his home county, and they have a right to be. We personally know that Congressman Helm would have liked to see Judge Sullivan carry Madison, and that he made no fight there, of course, however, being in no position to attempt to check the work of his Madison county friends, for him. Judge Sullivan deserved an endorsement by his home people, any they will yet regret that they did not loyally support him.

The selection of J. N. Camden, of Versailles, as campaign chairman of the democratic party in Kentucky this fall could hardly have been improved upon. Mr. Camden is clean, capable, and is one of the men who are doing things to keep Kentucky in the forward rank of states. Strength to his arm in the fight to make the majority 100,000 in November.

The fight as to who will poll the biggest vote in Lincoln, Roosevelt or Taft has already started. Chairman Davidson of the Taft forces has issued a call for a big rally at the colored Odd Fellows hall next Monday night. Now what will the Bull Mooses do? We'll take a ticket on "Davy" every time.

The Board of Prison Commissioners this week appointed John Chilton, of Hopkinsville, warden of the Eddyville penitentiary, a splendid selection. Now if they will retain Warden Ed Mudd, at Frankfort, who has made a splendid official, and appoint Bob Coffey as deputy warden, everyone in this section, will be well pleased, we are sure.

The citizen who does not read the speech of Woodrow Wilson accepting the democratic nomination for the presidency, misses a gem indeed. What a great and wonderful man he is becomes more apparent every day.

Editor Jesse M. Alverson, of the Anderson News, comes out strong for Helm for Congress, and declares that the "hatchet is buried" between them.

Editorial Snapshots.

Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch: The Bull Mooses will be scarcer when they read the platform the colonel is fixing up for them.

Bristol Herald-Courier: They won't even let Thaw out of the asylum long enough to show whether he would kill Evelyn Nesbit or not.

New York World: What matters a record wheat crop for Kansas if it must fight until November over whether the credit belongs to Taft or Roosevelt?

Washington Star: Boston is an alitiduous example of sagacious and indefatigable superiority in baseball as well as a top-notch in literature.

Undeserved But Appreciated

(Danville Advocate.)
The Advocate stands ready to take off its hat to Editor Shelton Saufley, of the Stanford Interior Journal. To him more than to any other man in the Eighth Congressional District Congressman Harvey Helm owes his remarkable victory in the primary last Saturday. He acted as press agent for the "Tall Sycamore," and while we thought we were delivering some "hot shots" in favor of our man, Saufley, some how or other, managed to cover us with still hotter shots in the numerous Helm papers of the district. Saufley's many friends all over the district are declaring that Congressman Helm should reward him with the best slice of pie in his gift when Governor Wilson is made president of the nation. Many of Congressman Helm's warmest friends say that he should back Editor Saufley for the Collectorship and in the event that the Stanford editor cares for the job, he will doubtless land if Congressman Helm's backing will do it.

A Beautiful Decline.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Ollie Jones, Congressman and Senator-elect from Kentucky, was in conversation the other day with a Washingtonian, when the latter made certain inquiries with reference to a mutual friend whom he had not seen for a number of years.

"And how does Col. Prescott spend his declining years?" he asked.

"Beautifully, sir; beautifully!" answered Jones. "He has a fine farm sir. And a string of trotters, sir, and a barrel of whisky sixteen years old—and a wife of the same age, sir!"

A Kidney Remedy Advertisement Brought Great Happiness

I take pleasure in stating that I have used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I was greatly benefitted by the same and have used it in my family. I had a son, when quite young he suffered from bladder or kidney affliction. I called in my physician, he attended him but did him no good. Almost by accident I noticed an advertisement about the curative properties of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I procured a bottle and gave it to him according to directions. It cured him of what we thought was almost impossible and the same with others of my family. I have such strong faith in Swamp-Root that I have never done without it in my family since the wonderful cure of my son as well as myself. I recommend it to all who suffer from kidney or bladder troubles and I am led to believe that it is one of the best medicines for the purpose for which it is used, that has ever been discovered.

This is my experience from the use of Swamp-Root. Wishing the promoters of this wonderful medicine a large sale to the suffering public, I am Yours respectfully,

CHAPTER XIV.

An Egg-Nog and a Telegram.

We had discovered Louise at the lodge Tuesday night. It was Wednesday I had my interview with her. Thursday and Friday were uneventful, save as they marked improvement in our patient. Gertrude spent almost all the time with her, and the two had grown to be great friends. But certain things hung over me constantly; the coroner's inquest on the death of Arnold Armstrong, to be held Saturday, and the arrival of Mrs. Armstrong and young Dr. Walker, bringing the body of the dead president of the Traders' bank. We had not told Louise of either death.

Then, too, I was anxious about the children. With their mother's inheritance swept away in the wreck of the bank, and with their love affairs in a disastrous condition, things could scarcely be worse. Added to that, the cook and Liddy had a flare up over the proper way to make beef-tea for Louise, and, of course, the cook left.

Mrs. Watson had been glad enough, I think, to turn Louise over to our care, and Thomas went upstairs at night and morning to greet his young mistress from the doorway. Poor Thomas! He had the faculty—found still in some old negroes, who cling to the traditions of slavery days—of making his employer's interest his. It was always "we" with Thomas. I miss him sorely; pipe-smoking, obsequious, not over reliable, kindly old man!

"I Am Very Sorry You Have Made This Decision," He Said.

On Thursday Mr. Harton, the Armstrongs' legal adviser, called up from town. He had been advised, he said, that Mrs. Armstrong was coming east with her husband's body and would arrive Monday. He came with some hesitation, at last, to the fact that he had been further instructed to ask me to relinquish my lease on Sunnyside, as it was Mrs. Armstrong's desire to come directly there.

I was aghast. "Here!" I said. "Surely you are mistaken, Mr. Harton. I should think, after what happened here only a few days ago, she would never wish to come back."

"Nevertheless," he replied, "she is most anxious to come. This is what she says: 'Use every possible means to have Sunnyside vacated. Must go there at once.'"

"Mr. Harton," I said testily, "I am not going to do anything of the kind. I and mine have suffered enough at the hands of this family. I rented the house at an exorbitant figure and I have moved out here for the summer. My city home is dismantled and in the hands of decorators. I have been here one week, during which I have had not a single night of uninterrupted sleep, and I intend to stay until I have recuperated. Moreover, if Mr. Armstrong died insolvent, as I believe was the case, his widow ought to be glad to be rid of so expensive a piece of property."

The lawyer cleared his throat. "I am very sorry you have made this decision," he said. "Miss Innes, Mrs. Fitzhugh tells me Louise Armstrong is with you."

"She is."

"Has she been informed of this—double bereavement?"

"Not yet," I said. "She has been very ill; perhaps to-night she can be told."

"It is very sad; very sad," he said. "I have a telegram for her, Miss Innes. Shall I send it out?"

"Better open it and read it to me," I suggested. "If it is important, that will save time."

There was a pause while Mr. Harton opened the telegram. Then he read it slowly, judicially.

"Watch for Nina Carrington. Home Monday. Signed F. L. W."

"Hum!" I said. "Watch for Nina Carrington. Home Monday." Very well, Mr. Harton, I will tell her, but she is not in condition to watch for any one."

"Well, Miss Innes, if you decide to—er—relinquish the lease, let me know," the lawyer said.

"I shall not relinquish it," I replied, and I imagined his irritation from the way he hung up the receiver.

I wrote the telegram down word for word, afraid to trust my memory, and decided to ask Dr. Stewart how soon Louise might be told the truth. The closing of the Traders' bank I considered unnecessary for her to know, but the death of her stepfather and stepbrother must be broken to her soon, or she might hear it in some unexpected and shocking manner. Dr. Stewart came about four o'clock, bringing his leather satchel into the house with a great deal of care, and opening it at the foot of the stairs to show me a dozen big yellow eggs nestling among the bottles.

"Real eggs," he said proudly. "None of your enameled store eggs, but the real thing—some of them still warm. Feel them! Egg-nog for Miss Louise!"

He was beaming with satisfaction, and before he left, he insisted on going back to the pantry and making an egg-nog with his own hands. Somehow, all the time he was doing it, I had a vision of Dr. Willoughby, my nerve specialist in the city, trying to make an egg-nog. I wondered if he ever prescribed anything so plebeian—and so delicious. And while Dr. Stewart whisked the eggs he talked.

"I said to Mrs. Stewart," he confessed, "a little red in the face from the exertion, 'after I went home the other day, that you would think me an old gossip, for saying what I did about Walker and Miss Louise.'"

"Nothing of the sort," I protested.

"The fact is," he went on, evidently justifying himself, "I got that piece of information just as we get a lot of things, through the kitchen end of the house. Young Walker's chauffeur—Walker's more fashionable than I am, and he goes around the country in a Stanhope car—well, his chauffeur comes to see our servant girl, and he told her the whole thing. I thought it was probable, because Walker spent a lot of time up here last summer, when the family was here, and he—sides, Riggs, that's Walker's man, had a very pat little story about the doctor's building a house on this property, just at the foot of the hill. The sugar, please."

The egg-nog was finished. Drop by drop the liquor had cooked the egg, and now, with a final whisk, a last toss in the shaker, it was ready, a symphony in gold and white. The doctor sniffed it.

"Real eggs, real milk, and a touch of real Kentucky whisky," he said.

He insisted on carrying it up himself, but at the foot of the stairs he pensed.

"Riggs said the plans were drawn for the house," he said, harking back to the old subject. "Drawn by Huston in town. So I naturally believed him."

When the doctor came down, I was ready with a question.

"Doctor," I asked, "is there any one in the neighborhood named Carrington? Nina Carrington?"

"Carrington?" He wrinkled his forehead. "Carrington? No, I don't remember any such family. There used to be Covingtons down the creek."

"The name was Carrington," I said, and the subject lapsed.

Gertrude and Halsey went for a long walk that afternoon and Louise slept. Time hung heavy on my hands, and I did as I had fallen into a habit of doing lately—I sat down and thought things over. One result of my meditations was that I got up suddenly and went to the telephone.

I had taken the most intense dislike to this Dr. Walker, whom I had never seen, and who was being talked of in the countryside as the fiancé of Louise Armstrong.

I knew Sam Huston well. There had been a time, when Sam was a good deal younger than he is now, before he had married Anne Endicott, when I knew him even better. So now I felt no hesitation in calling him over the telephone. But when his office boy had given way to his confidential clerk, and that functionary had descended to connect his employer's desk telephone, I was somewhat at a loss as to how to begin.

"Why, how are you, Rachel?" Sam said sonorously. "Going to build that house at Rock View?" It was a 20-year-old joke of his.

"Sometime, perhaps," I said. "Just now I want to ask you a question about something which is none of my business."

"I see you haven't changed a lot in a quarter of a century, Rachel." This was intended to be another jest. "Ask ahead; everything but my domestic affairs is at your service."

"Try to be serious," I said. "And tell me this: Has your firm made any plans for a house recently for a Dr. Walker or Casanova?"

"Yes, we have."

"Where was it to be built? I have a reason for asking."

"It was to be, I believe, on the Armstrong place. Mr. Armstrong himself consulted me, and the inference was—in fact, I am quite certain—the house was to be occupied by Mr. Armstrong's daughter, who was engaged to marry Dr. Walker."

When the architect had inquired for the different members of my family, and had finally rung off, I was certain of one thing. Louise Armstrong was in love with Halsey, and the man she was going to marry was Dr. Walker. Moreover, this decision was not new; marriage had been contemplated for some time. There must certainly be some explanation—but what was it?

That day I repeated to Louise the telegram Mr. Harton had opened. She seemed to understand, but an unhappy face I have never seen. She looked like a criminal whose reprieve is over, and the day of execution approaching.

CHAPTER XV.

Liddy gives the alarm.

The next day, Friday, Gertrude broke the news of her stepfather's death to Louise. She did it as gently as she could, telling her first that he was very ill, and finally that he was dead. Louise received the news in the most unexpected manner, and when Gertrude came out to tell me how she had stood it, I think she was almost shocked.

"She just lay and stared at me, Aunt Ray," she said. "Do you know, I believe she is glad, glad! And she is too honest to pretend anything else. What sort of a man was Mr. Paul Armstrong, anyhow?"

"He was a bully as well as a rascal, Gertrude," I said. "But I am convinced of one thing: Louise will send for Halsey now, and they will make it all up."

For Louise had steadily refused to see Halsey all that day, and the boy was frantic.

We had a quiet hour, Halsey and I, that evening, and I told him several things; about the request that we give up the lease to Sunnyside, about the telegram to Louise, about the rumors of an approaching marriage between the girl and Dr. Walker, and, last of all, my own interview with her the day before.

He sat back in a big chair, with his face in the shadow, and my heart fairly ached for him. He was so big and boyish! When I had finished he drew a long breath.

"Whatever Louise does," he said, "nothing will convince me, Aunt Ray, that she doesn't care for me. And up to two months ago, when she and her mother went west, I was the happiest fellow on earth. Then something made a difference; she wrote me that her people were opposed to the marriage; that her feeling for me was what it had always been, but that something had happened which had changed her ideas as to the future. I was not to write until she wrote me, and whatever occurred, I was to think the best I could of her. It sounded like a puzzle. When I saw her yesterday, it was the same thing, only, perhaps, worse."

"Halsey," I asked, "have you any idea of the nature of the interview between Louise Armstrong and Arnold the night he was murdered?"

"It was stormy. Thomas says once or twice he almost broke into the room, he was so alarmed for Louise."

"Another thing, Halsey," I said, "have you ever heard Louise mention a woman named Carrington, Nina Carrington?"

"Never," he said positively.

For try as we would, our thoughts always came back to that fatal Saturday night, and the murder. Every conversational path led to it, and we all felt that Jameson was tightening the threads of evidence around John Bailey. The detective's absence was hardly reassuring; he must have had something to work on in town or he would have returned.

The papers reported that the cashier of the Traders' bank was ill in his apartments at the Knickerbocker—a condition not surprising, considering everything. The guilt of the defunct president was no longer in doubt; the misleading bonds had been advertised and some of them discovered. In every instance they had been used as collateral for large loans, and the belief was current that not less than a million and a half dollars had been realized. Every one connected with the bank had been placed under arrest, and released on heavy bond.

Was he alone in his guilt, or was the cashier his accomplice? Where was the money? The estate of the dead man was comparatively small—a city house on a fashionable street, Sunnyside, a large estate largely mortgaged, an insurance of $50,000, and some personal property—this was all. The rest lost in speculation probably, the papers said. There was one thing which looked uncomfortable for Jack Bailey: He and Paul Armstrong together had promoted a railroad company in New Mexico, and it was rumored that together they had sunk large sums of money there. The business alliance between the two men added to the belief that Bailey knew something of the footing. His unexplained absence from the bank on Monday lent color to the suspicion against him. The strange thing seemed to be his surrendering himself on the point of departure. To me, it seemed the shrewd calculation of a clever rascal. I was not actively antagonistic to Gertrude's lover, but I meant to be convinced, one way or the other. I took no one on faith.

That night the Sunnyside ghost began to walk again. Liddy had been asleep in Louise's dressing room on a couch, and the approach of dusk was a signal for her to harried the entire suite. Situated as it was, beyond the circular staircase, nothing but an extremity of excitement would have made her pass it after dark. I confess myself that the place seemed to me to have a sinister appearance, but we kept that wing well lighted, and until the lights went out at midnight it was really cheerful, if one did not know its history.

On Friday night, then, I had gone to bed, resolved to go to once to sleep. Thoughts that insisted on obtruding themselves I pushed resolutely to the back of my mind, and I systematically relaxed every muscle. I fell asleep soon, and was dreaming that Dr. Walker was building his new house immediately in front of my windows; I could hear the thump-thump of the hammers, and then I waked to a knowledge that somebody was pounding on my door.

I was up at once, and with the sound of my footstep on the floor the low knocking ceased, to be followed immediately by sibilant whispering through the keyhole.

"Miss Rachel! Miss Rachel!" somebody was saying, over and over.

"Is that you, Liddy?" I asked, my hand on the knob.

"For the love of mercy, let me in!" she said in a low tone.

She was leaning against the door, for when I opened it, she fell in. She was greenish-white, and she had a red and black barred flannel petticoat over her shoulders.

"Listen," she said, standing in the middle of the floor and holding on to me. "Oh, Miss Rachel, it's the ghost of that dead man hammering to get in!"

Sure enough, there was a dull thud—thud—thud—it came apparently from the wall.

"It's not a ghost," I said decidedly. "If it was a ghost it wouldn't rap; it would come through the keyhole."

Liddy looked at the keyhole. "But it sounds very much as though some one is trying to break into the house."

Liddy was shivering violently. I told her to get me my slippers and she brought me a pair of old gloves, so I found my things myself and prepared to call Halsey. As before, the night alarm had found the electric lights gone; the hall, save for its night lamp, was in darkness, as I went across to Halsey's room, I hardly knew what I feared, but it was a relief to find him there, very sound asleep, and with his door unlocked.

"Wake up, Halsey," I said, shaking him.

He stirred a little. Liddy was half in and half out of the door, afraid as usual to be left alone, and not quite daring to enter. Her scruples seemed to fade, however, all at once. She gave an suppressed yell, bolted into the room and stood tightly clutching the foot-board of the bed. Halsey was gradually waking.

"I've seen it," Liddy wailed. "A woman in white down the hall!"

I paid no attention.

"Halsey," I persevered, "some one is breaking into the house. Get up, won't you?"

"It isn't our house," he said sleepily. And then he roused to the exigency of the occasion. "All right, Aunt Ray," he said, still yawning. "If you'll let me get into something—"

It was all I could do to get Liddy out of the room. The demands of the occasion had no influence on her; she had seen the ghost, she persisted, and she wasn't going into the hall. But I got her over to my room at last, more dead than alive, and made her lie down on the bed.

The tappings, which seemed to have ceased for a while, had commenced again, but they were fainter. Halsey came over in a few minutes, and stood listening and trying to locate the sound.

"Give me my revolver, Aunt Ray," he said; and I got it—the one I had found in the tulip bed—and gave it to him. He saw Liddy there and divined at once that Louise was alone.

"You let me attend to this fellow, whoever it is, Aunt Ray, and go to Louise, will you? She may be awake and alarmed."

So in spite of her protests, I left Liddy alone and went back to the east wing. Perhaps I went a little faster past the yawning blackness of the circular staircase; and I could hear Halsey creaking cautiously down the main staircase. The rapping, or pounding, had ceased, and the silence was almost painful. And then suddenly, from apparently under my very feet, there rose a woman's scream, a cry of terror that broke off as suddenly as it came. I stood frozen and still. Every drop of blood in my body seemed to leave the surface and gather around my heart. In the dead silence that followed it throbbed as if it would burst. More dead than alive, I stumbled into Louise's bedroom. She was not there!

Finds Cure for Epilepsy After Years of Suffering

"My daughter was afflicted with epileptic fits for three years, the attacks coming every few weeks. We employed several doctors but they did her no good. About a year ago we heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and it certainly has proved a blessing to our little girl. She is now apparently cured and is enjoying the best of health. It is over a year since she has had a fit. We cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine."

of Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Thousands of children in the United States who are suffering from attacks of epilepsy are a burden and sorrow to their parents, who would give anything to restore health to the sufferers.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is one of the best remedies known for this affliction. It has proven beneficial in thousands of cases and those who have used it have the greatest faith in it. It is not a "cure-all," but a reliable remedy for nervous diseases. You need not hesitate to give it a trial.

A LEGION OF DEMONS.

Mark iv, 35; v, 20—Aug. 11.

"God is our Refuge and Strength, a very present help in trouble; therefore will we not fear, though the earth be changed, and though the mountains be cast into the midst of the sea."—Psalm cxxv, 1, 2.

THE forepart of today's study is an account of a very severe wind storm on the Sea of Galilee. Jesus, tired from His teaching and healing, in which vitality went out of Him for the relief of the people, had gotten into one of the boats formerly used by some of His disciples in the fishing business and still owned by them. The purpose was to cross the lake for a season of rest. The Master was soon fast asleep. Suddenly a terrific storm set in which appeared even those accustomed to such scenes. They came to Jesus and aroused Him, saying, "Master, carest Thou not that we perish?" and He rebuked the wind, saying, "Peace, be still." And immediately "there was a great calm."

The text at the head of this study draws to our attention another storm. It pictures the great storm of trouble which in the close of this Age will suddenly burst upon the whole world of mankind and in which "Babylon the Great, the Mother of Harlots," "like a great millstone will be cast into the midst of the sea." This same "time of trouble," in some Scriptures, is spoken of as a "whirlwind," the result of letting loose "the four winds of heaven," that will be held until that time—Revelation xvii, 5; xviii, 2; Jeremiah xxv, 32; Revelation vii, 1.

Again, this trouble is symbolized by a "fire," which will burn not only the earth (symbolical of organized society), but also the heavens (symbolical of ecclesiasticism). This symbolical fire, this great anarchistic blaze, will leave present institutions in "ashes." Upon the ruins, the ashes, of the blasted hopes and ambitions of society, political, scientific and religious, will arise the glorious Kingdom of Messiah to bless the world; and it will be as prophesied: "The desire of all nations shall come."

Our text pictures that coming "time of trouble" as a great "storm," which will entirely remove, or change the "earth," the present construction of society, and carry the "mountains," the kingdoms of this present time, into the sea of anarchy. God's people will to some extent be associated with all of these troubles; but they are not to fear, they are to realize that God is at the helm.

"Jesus Gave Them Leave."

In the heading we have connected this study with the demons, because the Scriptures intimate that the demons will have considerable to do with stirring up the great "time of trouble" and discontent with which this Age will close and Messiah's Kingdom be established.

On the other side of the Lake, as they landed, a man came running toward them. He was obsessed—that is to say, demons, the fallen angels mentioned by St. Jude (Jude 6) and St. Peter (1 Peter ii, 4), had gained access, and were in control of him. It was these that recognized Jesus and spoke through the man's lips.

The Bible's explanation of how some angels fell from their original perfection and harmony with God, and of why they seek to gain control of humanity and commune with them through mediums, and personate the dead, we have not the space to present in this study; but as there are many today more or less under the influence of demonism—spiritism—we will send further information upon postcard request.

Jesus gave the demons the privilege they requested. The swine, like the man, were crazed by the strange outside influence which took possession of their brains. They ran violently down a steep place into the sea and were drowned. Meantime, the man, released from his obsession, was again in his right mind, and praised God for his deliverance.

Those familiar with such matters claim that probably one-half of all the inmates of our insane asylums are persons obsessed by evil spirits, demons, without any organic disease of the brain. And alas! we see evidences on every hand that these evil spirits are paving the way for a great onslaught upon humanity.

Under the title of Psychic Phenomena spiritism is being examined by some of the prominent professors of our day. They, like other spiritists, are deceived in supposing that the manifestations which come to them are from their dead human friends. The Bible alone makes the matter perfectly clear. It assures us that the dead have no power to communicate, and that all such communications come from the demons, who do not dare to tell who they are, for if they did, humanity would be on guard against them.

A great storm of trouble is to end this age.

Revival services have been in progress at the Christian church at Yossite for a week or more. The pastor, Rev. J. Q. Montgomery, is being assisted by Rev. Mont Gibbert. They are having able and earnest preaching done, though there have been no additions to date. The meeting will likely close tomorrow, Wednesday.

Rev. C. T. Claunch has secured the services of Rev. Taylor to assist in a protracted meeting at the Baptist church here, some time in October. Rev. Taylor was pastor at Huron some years ago and is said to be a good preacher.

Misses Ruth and Martha Dye entertained in honor of Miss Myrtle Vaughn, of Louisville, Tuesday. Those present were Misses Evelyn and Bernice Cash, Stella Jones, Essie Harney, Mary and Lizzie Jones, Belle Cowan, Myrtle and Bessie Tapscott.

Mrs. T. H. Moran returned Sunday from visiting relatives in Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elliott, of New Salem, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryant.

Rev. C. T. Claunch went to Paint Lick Saturday to preach. Judge M. L. Sharp was here Monday selling groceries to our merchants.

J. H. McWhorter, McD. Jones,

Jack Wells, and Robert Bracher were the election officers here Saturday and Jim Coulter said that a harder fought set of men could not have been appointed. It is true they were not handsome men, by any means, but they were as jolly a set as one would care to meet.

Mrs. Annie Bryant has torn down her residence here, which had become old and somewhat dilapidated and has contracted with Tapscott & Co. for a beautiful six room cottage to be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

John Coulter sold 30 head of steers to Jesse P. Riffe at 4 1-2 cents. He has sixty head yet on hand.

Sharp and Lanes bought a bunch of yearling steers and heifers of V. T. Wilson at 4 1-2 cents, a cow of Mrs. J. A. Estes for $30 and a bunch of shoats of same party for $35.

Well, the primary is over and we presume everyone connected with it in any way is glad. The result here was just what we predicted it would be, and is no surprise to us. The tide was with Harvey Helm from the start and there was nothing that could turn it. As for the writer we made the best fight we could for Harvey. With no ill feelings whatever toward Mr. Sullivan, it being our purpose all the while to support him in the event he got the nomination. That he made mistakes, his warmest friends will doubtless concede, the greatest being when he became a candidate against a man with Harvey Helm's record.

It appeared to us from the beginning that he was making a losing fight and we wondered why a man of his good sense could not see it. But the fight is over now, and Mr. Helm's victory is so decisive that it would be out of taste to attempt to crow over one so overwhelmingly defeated. Now let us pull off our coats and elect Harvey Helm. Woodrow Wilson and the whole gush and all will be well.

Mt. Moriah

Mr. Maury McGuffey, who has been running a threshing machine for Mr. Tash pulled in last week on account of so many machines.

Mr. Henry Mills, of this section is building a nice little cottage near the church. While working on it Prof. John Will Young fell and is suffering very much over his fall, but lucky to have no limbs broken.

Mr. Tom Mackay's singing school closed Sunday. There was quite a large crowd present and we see lots of good he has done toward our singing.

Mr. John Hutchinson has returned to his home in Covington after a two weeks stay.

Marksbury.

Pastor Mahan will begin a protracted meeting with his church at this place in the early part of October, assisted by State Evangelist Rev. W. P. Jenkins.

Miss Foley, of Lexington, came over this week to make a several days' stay with Miss Georgia Dunn. Mrs. J. W. Mahan, who has been quite sick for the past two weeks is better at this writing.

Pastor Mahan will begin a meeting at Mt. Lebanon, beginning August 21. Rev. J. P. Jenkins, of Louisville will do the preaching.

Mr. Bertram Spratt Lowell, who has been visiting his friends here has returned home.

Mrs. Halley Ware, of Cincinnati, has been visiting Miss Addie Arnold. Master Ashbury Siler, of Jellico, Tenn. is the guest of his uncle, Mr. J. W. Mahan.

Miss Lizzie McFride and brothers, Messrs. J. A. and Dan McBride, of Richmond, Misses Giggie Williams and Mary Carr, of Paint Lick, were attendants at the house party given by the Misses O'Leary.

Mrs. Clayton Arnold was hostess at dinner Tuesday to a number of friends, the guest of honor being Mrs. Chas. Burdette, of D. K.

Miss Georgia Dunn has made a recent trip to Frankfurt.

The supper given last week by the Ladies Working Society was a success both financially and socially. Quite a good deal of fun was had at the dining room door where the guests were measured, the tallest lady measuring 71 inches while the tallest gentleman present was 77 inches high. Piano music recitations and songs gave charm to the evening and everyone present seemed to have a good time. The ladies are indebted to Mr. Elmer Chestnut for the beautiful Japanese lanterns he presented for the occasion.

Messrs. Thompson Arnold, Ben King and Dr. Burnett have just returned from a motoring trip through central and western Kentucky.

Mrs. Ben Hughes, of Lancaster, was the guest of Mrs. Edmund Dutton, Sunday.

Miss Hart, of Upper Garretts, has been visiting her sister, of Bright's Bend.

Mrs. Sam Speakes and daughter, have returned from a visit to his brother, Mr. Will Speakes at Highland.

Mr. Perry Tuggle, left this week to visit his brother, Joe Tuggle, of New York City.

Mr. Dan Hudette has returned from the sanatorium at Utah Oreland, much improved in health.

Mrs. Eliza Hicks, of Danville, who spent last week with friends, there is now the guest of Mr. Clay Williams at Brynnsville.

MRS. JOHN CORMINEY

Dies at Rowland After Eight Years of Suffering.

Mrs. John Corminey died at her home in Rowland last Thursday. She was the daughter of William and Mary Payne, formerly of the Walnut Flat section, but later of Preachersville and now both dead. She was married to John Corminey something more than thirty years ago and eight children were born to bless their union, seven of whom are living, nearly all grown. Deceased was a good woman, well-liked by all. She had been in almost constant suffering for about eight years of a complication of troubles. After funeral services Friday at her late home by Mr. J. C. McClary, her remains were laid to rest in Goshen cemetery to await the resurrection morning. May the God of infinite mercy heal the broken hearts of her sorrowing family.

Dr. C. H. Ellsworth, Dentist, 16 Baldwin St., Rochester, N. Y., says Foley Kidney Pills gave him immediate relief and strengthened him wonderfully. "I have been bothered with weak kidneys and bladder trouble and suffered much pain. Foley Kidney Pills gave me immediate relief and strengthened me wonderfully. I am pleased to recommend their use." Shugers and Toner.

PREACHERSVILLE PIKE.

In Very Bad Shape, and Many Repairs Are Needed.

Preachersville, Aug. 8.—We humbly request the powers that be, the proper authorities and anyone else upon whom the responsibility rests to please take notice of the condition of the Preachersville and Stanford turnpike. We venture the assertion that portions of this pike are now in worse shape than at any time since built in 1884. Also how very dangerous the bridge over Wilkinson's Branch is, being unbaistered, and in a short curve of the highway, with a sheer drop of 15 feet to solid rock below, which should a carriage or other vehicle drop over, nine times in ten, would cause a fatal catastrophe. Imagine for an instant a heavy load of women and children as actors in this, (your own wife, and children for instance,) and your mind's eye would tremble, your hair rise in terror, and your mental misery would be as acute as a felon upon hearing his death sentence read. Then the bridge abutments, at the large iron bridge on Dick's river, near the old Walter Warren place, are not baistered and higher and as dangerous as the before mentioned bridge. Between these two points is still another place, the high bluff or cliff, along the brow of which runs the turnpike. Instead of a good substantial baistering, which would stop anything in the vehicle class, from a downward plunge fifty feet to the river below, what is there in place? Some fence two plank high, on rotten posts. In some places the plank have rotted and gone and should a horse become unmanageable, would afford but little protection from a serious disaster. This is not over-drawn, the case will bear inquiry and the quicker the better, for unless it is soon remedied the good county of Lincoln might be made party to a legal suit of much consequence by the loss of life or limb resulting from the haphazard manner in which our bridges receive attention.

Preachersville.

John Cummins, storekeeper and gauger at Lawrenceburg, came over Saturday to vote in the primary and visit his father, Mr. H. G. Cummins, who has been sick.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. White have returned from a pleasant visit to their daughter, Mrs. Jesse Traylor, at Paris.

Rev. Bynum Deborde, who spent his boyhood days here, preached Sunday at the Beech Grove Baptist church to a good crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cress have just returned from attending the Cress family reunion held near Dayton, Ohio, last week. They report a nice time and about 150 of the name in attendance.

Miss Julia Naylor is now at home after a two weeks' visit to her sister Mrs. Grover Gustineau.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ranke were guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Bartels.

Mrs. Harriett Foley has been quite sick.

Mr. George W. King, of Norman, Okla., has been a guest of his sister, Mrs. G. W. Spangler and other East End relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Pettus chaperoned quite a crowd of young folks on a hay ride one night last week to see the picture show at Crab Orchard Springs.

There will be services Saturday and Sunday at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Lunsford, visited their son, B. T. Lunsford visited their son, B. T. Lunsford in Garvard.

Mr. J. F. Payne and wife were called to Rowland to attend the last rites of burial of his sister, Mrs. John Corminey, who died last Thursday.

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUN

For singles—trap or field—just toes in a shell, press the button and—"PULL." The side bolt makes it easy. You don't have to tug at the barrel or watch an on-and-off device. The action stays open after each single shot is fired.—It always stays open when the magazine is empty. Five shots—three to get the cripples—each under absolute control of the trigger finger. The recoil recoils for you—kicks out another shell in; takes the strain off the gun—the discomfort out of the kick—all without diminishing the drive behind the shot.

Simple take-down—a few turns of the readily handled magazine screw-cap makes cleaning, carrying and interchange of barrels quick and easy.

Send for a motion picture booklet telling how the kick is used—how a friction device found only on the Remington-UMC Autoloading Shotgun takes the punishment out of heavy loads.

G. B. Swinebroad, one of the most prominent farmers of the county near the Garrard line, was in town to vote in the primary Saturday. He told of the splendid condition of all farm crops this year, and believes this will prove one of the most successful seasons the farmers have had in many years. Mr. Swinebroad has sixty acres in corn, which is looking splendid, nearly every stalk having two large ears. He says with corn at $5, wheat $1, hogs $7.50 and other things in like proportion, the farmer has no reason to complain.

Asa Jewell, of Lexington, accompanied by his son John, of Wilmore, was here Wednesday looking at some horse flesh and for the purpose of buying some cattle. They bought 86 head of fat cattle from J. S. and R. C. Hoeker, to be fed on corn till November, when the heaves will be delivered. Mr. Jewell paid $6.50 a hundred for these cattle, which were one of the nicest bunches fed in Lincoln this season. They will weigh about 1,300 pounds when delivered.

The Messrs. Jewell, while here, purchased a bunch of 51 yearling cattle from Chas. Lutes, to be delivered on October 1st. They will feed these at their farm near Wilmore, in Jessamine county. These youngsters weighed about 800 pounds and brought from 4 3-4 to 5 cents per pound.

Charley Lutes shipped two loads of fat cattle to the Cincinnati market this week. They went to Greene Embury & Co. They weighed an average of about 850 pounds, and were bought from various parties at prices ranging from 3 1-2 cents up. Mr. Lutes, who makes his headquarters at Lexington now, will be in this section for several days. He is endeavoring to make up a carload of horses and mules for the southern market. He plans to trade extensively in the south again this winter, having had such success during the past season. As before his headquarters in the south will be at Goldsboro, N. C.

T. W. Jones & Co., have been buying extensively during this week, shipping to the Cincinnati market. They ship from Rowland. Mr. Jones bought of J. C. Enbanks 21 hams, which weighed about 70 pounds, at $6 a hundred pounds. From Jop Rankin he got eight ewes and six lambs, at the same figure. From D. B. Morris, also of the Hubble section, he got 44 hams which weighed up to an average of 77 pounds apiece, and for which he paid $6.50 a hundred; from C. C. Gaver, he got a bunch which weighed ed about 65 pounds at $6 and from Will Pepples a small bunch at $5.50. Thurlow Jones was in Richmond on Monday, court day, and bought two carloads of cattle and hams which he shipped over the L. & A. direct to the Bourbon Stock Yards at Louisville. He bought the cattle, which was mostly butcher stuff at from 2 to 5 cents and the hams at an average of about 3 1-2 to 5 1-2 cents a pound.

J. F. Gaver delivered three nice heifers to R. C. Arnold this week, for which he received from 4 1-2 to 5 cents a pound. They weighed from 700 to 900 pounds. Mr. Arnold shipped them to the city market. He also bought a cow from Wm. Irons for which he paid 4 cents and which weighed about 800 pounds. Jim Eads delivered him three nice yearlings at $40 for the bunch. Nevin Carter sold him a calf for 5 cents a pound.

Phil Nunneley delivered his wheat to Baughman's elevator this week. He had 800 bushels, which he received the market price of $1 a bushel. Mr. Nunneley tried a small tract of land on a large head of New York wheat this season, but did not have much success with it. He figures that it will take another season to thoroughly acclimate it, and is going to give it another trial next season. The wheat heads up beautifully with splendid looking heads, much larger than the ordinary wheat grown in this country.

A. L. Rankin, one of the best known farmers of the Hubble section, has been laid up with rheumatism for some time, but he got to town Saturday to vote in the primary though he had to come on a pair of crutches.

J. S. and R. C. Hoeker split their herd of cattle which they sold this week, part going to Mr. Jewell, as above stated, while Thurlow Jones got the remainder. He took 20 head at 5 1-2 cents, to be delivered in October at the same time as the others.

Col. I. M. Dunn, of Danville, sold for Mr. John McConnell, of Boyle, his splendid Blue Grass farm on the Lebanon pike to Dr. S. O. Ends, of Decatur, Ill. The place contains 345 acres and the price was $140 per acre. Possession will be given in sixty days. The farm is located a fraction over a mile from Danville, and is in a high state of cultivation and well improved. It is one of the most desirable places in Boyle county. Mr. McConnell and family will go to Alabama where they will make their future home. Dr. Ends and family formerly lived in Boyle county, having owned the Humble farm on the Harrodsburg road.

J. H. Rigby sold a quantity of hay to Gregory, the Lancaster miller at $15 per ton.

Dogs made a raid on the sheep belonging to J. H. and Charles Rigby, in Garrard and killed two and injured several. Charles Rigby killed one dog and wounded the others.

Joe H. Murphy took a couple of nice young mares and a young stallion to the Mt. Vernon fair to show this week, while his father took his crack colt over to the Danville fair. Mr. Murphy got the first money at the Harrodsburg fair on the last day in the colt ring, and expected to do equally as well at Danville, but he did not know what luck he would have against Mrs. Lowndes' entry at her home. However, as he had bent her colt at other shows, he believed it could be done again. Mr. Murphy thinks that it's going to take a mighty fine youngster to take the Colt Futurity at the K. of P. Fair here, away from him. In giving the list of entries on Tuesday, the breeding of Joe Murphy's colt was omitted, not having been furnished the secretary. This colt is by Mr. Murphy's great sire and show winner, Garrard Chief and is out of a Rex Penning mare. The younger Murphy says that his father is going to have to step some to defeat this one.

Astral King, owned by James Houston, of Jefferson City, Mo., won the $1,000 saddle stake at the Mexico, Mo., fair, second money went to Kymokan, a bay gelding by Fitzsimmon, owned by Miss Loula Long of Kansas, City, and ridden by John Hook of Paris, Mo. Third money was won by Ed Moore, of Mexico, who rode the chestnut mare, Queen, of The Denmark. Fourth went to Gingerbread Man, ridden by Dr. Gadsby of St. Louis. Others shown were Senator Stone, ridden by L. B. Barnett; Highball and Bob McDonald, from the Buckman stables; Casson McDonald, ridden by Thomas Hoss, and Frances Fessler, ridden by W. J. Cowles. An hour and a half was taken to judge the event and it was one of the greatest contests ever seen on any track. The winner is a chestnut stallion, six years old, by Bourbon King, dam Miss Currier, by Highland Denmark. He was bred by Allie Jones of North Middletown, Ky., and won in harness at the Blue Grass Fair as a three-year-old and was sold just afterward for $3,500.

All For Hell-um.

The sentiment of the Eighth Congressional district tallies with that of our oldest citizen who says he is for Hellums first, Hellums last and Hellums all the time, and while it was not our pleasure and privilege to put one more vote down for him, we can shout hallelujah as loud as anybody for his sweeping victory. There is no law again it. Helm first, Helm last, Helm all the time.—Perryville Cor. Harrodsburg Leader.

CASH PRIZES

Given to Lucky Ones at Conclusion of H. M. & Co.'s Big Sale.

A tremendous crowd was present at the store of Hughes, Martin & Company on Saturday when the drawing for the $10 in gold was held. No. 3883 was the lucky one, and Mrs. Clifton Fowler was the lucky holder and drew the $5 in gold as first prize. Mrs. J. B. Wade, of the county, held the second number 1773 which drew the second prize of $2.50 and Mrs. Fowler was lucky again and drew the number, 3384, which called for the third prize of $2.50.

The drawing for the prizes concluded what was one of the most successful sales ever held in Stanford. It was conducted under the management of Mr. Marshall Motley, and some splendid bargains were offered, and taking advantage of by discriminating buyers. The sale was splendidly advertised both by bills and in the paper, which, in a large measure accounts for its success.

"I was cured of diarrhoea by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes M. E. Gebhardt, Oriole, Pa. There is nothing better. For sale by Penny's Drug Store.
